Position Description

Senior Sustainability Consultant – Rewild Agency

Rewild Agency is a sustainability advisory team who help organisations develop their sustainability plans and transform them into action.

About Rewild

Through our strategy setting, design (ESD), measurement, communication, and education services we work with organisations to embed sustainability at the heart of their operations.

Our holistic approach defines both the big-picture and day-to-day detail of what sustainability means for each organisation we work with. We offer guidance through the certifications to match ambitions.

We enable the power of Greenhouse Gas (GHG) measurement, which is why our custom tech platform Climate Zero is designed to calculate, track, and report an organisation's greenhouse gas emissions. Underpinning everything we do is communication and education. Because progress is driven by people, not plans.

About the role

Due to continued growth, we are on the search for a Senior Sustainability Consultant who is ready to take the charge on a broad range of sustainable design projects, ranging from Life Cycle Analyses and green building certifications, through to leading edge Living Building Challenge projects.

The role will seek to enhance and educate our clients in how our projects can be a force for good, in keeping with our founding notions as supporters of the regenerative design movement. As well as advocacy and technical delivery, the role also requires the successful candidate to contribute to the overall expertise of the team ensuring that we're supporting our clients with the latest sustainability solutions.

Join our team to lead projects that shape a sustainable and regenerative future for the built environment. This role offers the unique opportunity to also delve into the dynamic field of ESG and corporate sustainability, thanks to our broad expertise.

You'll work closely with our Director of Regenerative Design, backed by a dedicated team of Senior and Junior Consultants.

To be successful in this role, you'll bring:

- Curiosity and passion for all aspects of sustainability.
- Experience providing strategic ESD advice for multi-disciplinary and specialist ESD projects.
- Involvement in managing client relations, such as the preparation of quotes and tender submissions.
- Experience in building simulation such as daylight and thermal comfort analyses.
- Excellent time management skills.
- High level of self-motivation.

About you

- You are a sustainability enthusiast, committed to making the world a better place for all current and future generations.
- A tertiary education in environmentally sustainable design (ESD), sustainable building design, energy efficiency, engineering (environmental, mechanical or civil) and/or other building related courses with a sustainability focus (eg. architecture, construction, urban planning etc).
- Excellent communication skills and a commitment to developing strong client relationships.
- Team player, comfortable working within a small, agile, and distributed team, but are also comfortable working autonomously.
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills with a strong attention to detail.
- High level of computer literacy.
- You have working rights in Australia.

Key responsibilities:

- Leading and managing industry-leading projects.

- Mentoring our Junior Consultants and providing Quality Assurance.
- Providing assistance with business development (for our ESD services) through managing inbound enquiries and proposals.

Work location

We highly value flexibility and hybrid working. We collaborate together one day per week in our Albert Park office– the remaining time you are welcome to work from home or at a location of your choice.

Why Rewild?

We are in business to help make the world a better place. Rewild was inspired by the notion that it is no longer enough for organisations to just do less harm. We have reached a moment where all of us have a responsibility to do better – to create positive social and environmental outcomes while doing business – to regenerate the ecosystems around us.

Our Rewild team is full of interdisciplinary thinkers. Members of our team have launched tech-platforms, driven sustainable design in the built environment, grown scale-ups, consulted corporates, shifted consumer behaviours, built communities, and certified businesses small and large.

We offer:

- A boutique sustainability consultancy offering the opportunity to combine sustainable business and design experience, with a focus on delivering regenerative, planet positive outcomes.
- A company culture that is family-friendly and promotes flexible working arrangements.
- Training and development opportunities.
- Regular outdoor/team-building days (e.g. think hiking and off-site workshops to recharge our batteries and integrate a bit of adventure in your work).
- Paid volunteering leave.
- Birthdays off.

We are an equal opportunity employer and welcome people from diverse backgrounds and life experiences, including race, religion, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, national origin, ability or age to apply for roles with Rewild Agency.
