

Position Description

Internship, Climate Change & Carbon Advisory – Rewild Agency (Part Time)

Rewild Agency is a sustainability advisory team who help organisations develop their sustainability plans and transform them into action.

About Rewild

Through our strategy setting, design (ESD), measurement, communication, and education services we work with organisations to embed sustainability at the heart of their operations.

Our holistic approach defines both the big-picture and day-to-day detail of what sustainability means for each organisation we work with. We offer guidance through the certifications to match ambitions.

We enable the power of Greenhouse Gas (GHG) measurement, which is why our custom tech platform is designed to calculate, track, and report an organisation's greenhouse gas emissions. Underpinning everything we do is communication and education. Because progress is driven by people, not plans.

About the role

We are on the search for a passionate intern (Part Time) eager to learn about carbon accounting, emissions reporting (in line with the Climate Active standard), and net zero emissions strategies – to join us for ~3-days p/week from July–November, 2023.

In this role you will be primarily working with our Senior Sustainability Consultant and Director of Climate & ESG on GHG emissions data collection and analysis, developing emissions reduction strategies, and general client project management.

We anticipate that this internship will provide you with a crash course in carbon accounting and analysis – a key corporate sustainability skill invaluable to most sustainability consulting roles! The role will also provide you with an understanding of climate science and global standards (e.g. GHG Protocol, Science Based Targets initiative etc) and carbon neutral certification schemes (e.g. Climate Active standard) – both growing areas of expertise within Australia and internationally.

To be successful in this role, you'll bring:

- Curiosity and passion for all aspects of sustainability.
- An interest in climate change mitigation and emissions reduction.
- Familiarity with broader Australian and International corporate sustainability standards, frameworks, and guidelines.
- A general understanding of climate change policy and regulation within Australia.
- Good time management skills.
- High levels of self-motivation.
- An open, fun, and agile attitude toward solving problems and learning new skills.

About you

- You may be studying sustainability or have recently graduated and are looking to build your experience in a supportive environment.
- You have an attention to detail but when stuck, also know when to move on and ask for help.
- You are a sustainability enthusiast, committed to making the world a better place for all current and future generations.
- You're a team player, comfortable working within a small, agile, and distributed team, but are also comfortable working autonomously.
- You have advanced Microsoft Office skills – including proficiency with Microsoft Excel and the ability to build basic formulas (e.g. SUMIF and VLOOKUP), manage datasets with functions and build graphs and visualisations).

Key responsibilities:

Your key responsibility will be supporting our Senior Sustainability Consultant and Director of Climate & ESG, with GHG emissions data collection, analysis, net zero reduction strategies, and reporting.

Work location

This will be a hybrid role, where you will be required to work in our office in Albert Park a minimum of 1-day p week (however 2 days in the office is encouraged) – and the remaining day(s), will be spent working from home.

Why Rewild?

We are in business to help make the world a better place. Rewild was inspired by the notion that it is no longer enough for organisations to just do less harm. We have reached a moment where all of us have a responsibility to do better – to create positive social and environmental outcomes while doing business – to regenerate the ecosystems around us.

We offer:

- A boutique sustainability consultancy offering the opportunity to combine sustainable business and design experience, with a focus on delivering regenerative, planet positive outcomes.
- Family-friendly and flexible working arrangements.
- Training and development opportunities.

We are an equal opportunity employer and welcome people from diverse backgrounds and life experiences, including race, religion, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, national origin, ability or age to apply for roles with Rewild Agency.

Apply now

To apply for this role, please submit an application that includes a brief cover letter and a copy of your resume to Abbie Freestone via abbie@rewild.agency.
